

SALTY

GET IN THE WATER

Quick Start Guide

Mobile Edition - V4

Surf with your friends, not your feed.

START HERE

1

Open your private invite link

2

Sign in and finish your profile

3

Add Salty to your Home Screen

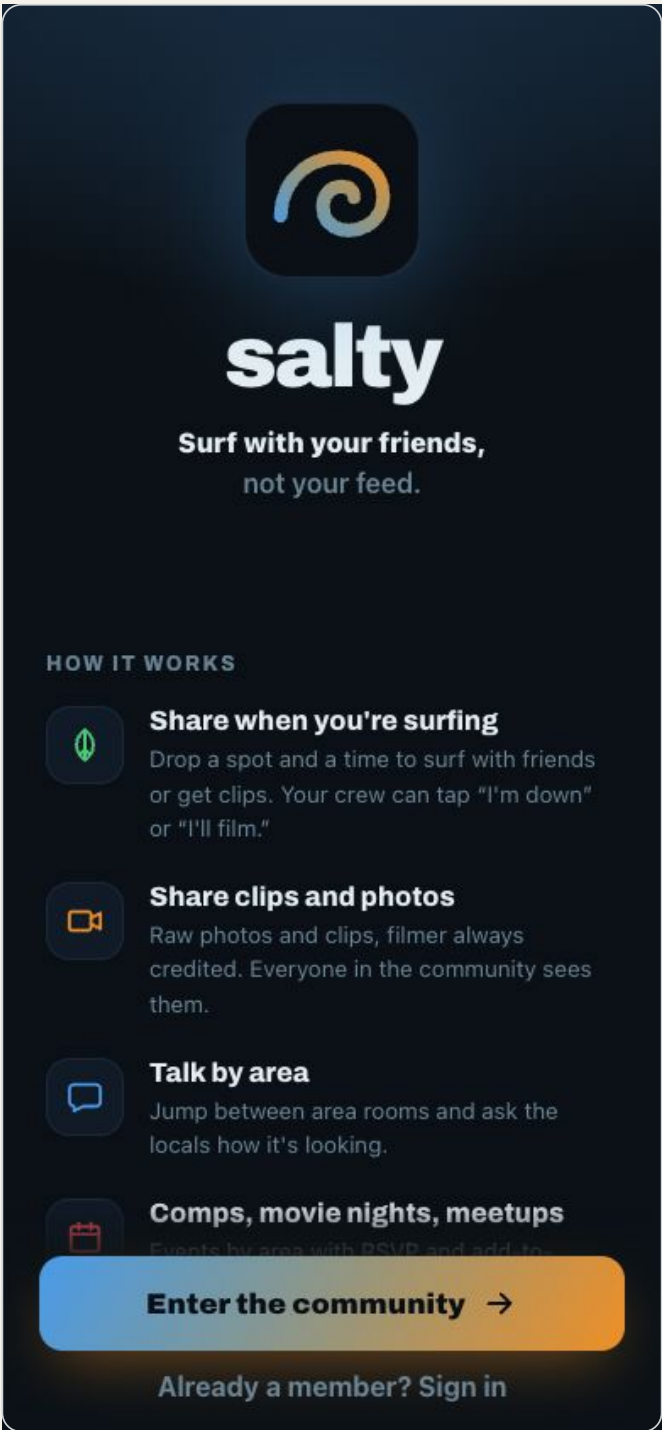

Get in.

Salty is invite-only. Open the private link someone from the crew sends you, then sign in.

1

Open the invite

Tap Enter the community. The invite link is what gets a new member through the door.

FIRST TIME

Sign in.

Google is easiest. Email works too.

1

Use one sign-in flow

If you use email, use the newest code. Requesting another email invalidates the previous one.

<

Welcome back

Continue with Google, or use the email connected to your Salty profile. You only need this on a new device or after signing out.

FIRST TIME

Build your profile.

Give the crew enough info to know who you are and where you normally surf.

1

Finish setup

Add your photo, name, home area and any social info you want to share.

Build your profile

Finish this once, then Salty keeps you signed in on this phone.

FIRST TIME

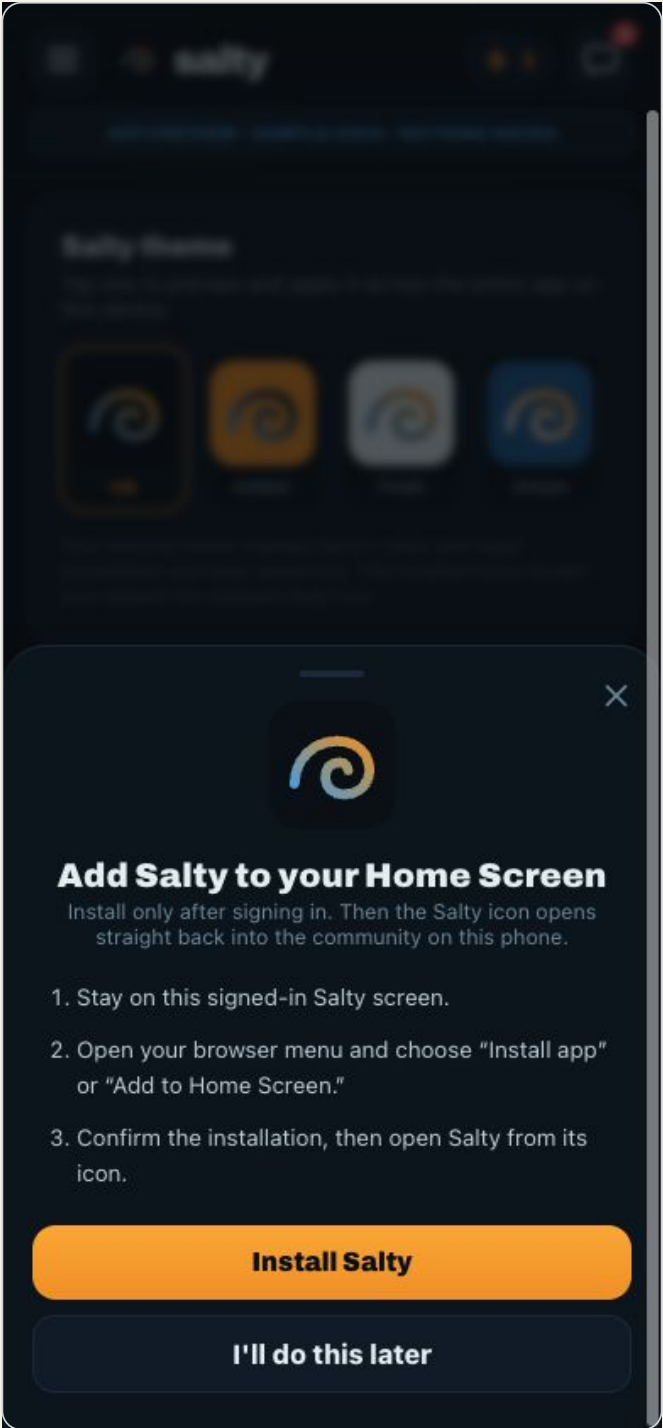

Put Salty on your phone.

Install only after you're signed in.

1

Add to Home Screen

Use Salty's install prompt. The icon then opens into your signed-in community.

See who's surfing.

This is home: see upcoming surfs, join the crew, offer to film, or share your own.

1

Read the plan

Sessions show the spot, general area, timing, who's surfing, who's filming, and whether the crew is looking for clips.

Change areas.

Salty is regional when it needs to be.

1

Tap the location pill

Switch regions at the top to see the crew and planned surfs somewhere else.

Share a surf.

Post for now or plan ahead. Keep the location broad.

1

Fill out the plan

Choose the spot, general location, Now or Pick a time, then whether you're surfing or filming. Looking for clips is optional.

SPOT NAME

ON

NOTE optional

Morning glass before the wind.

Share session

Start when the crew starts.

A planned surf can begin early. Start it when you actually paddle out.

1

Go live

The organizer taps Start session at the real start time. Friends can RSVP as surfing or filming, with or without a clip request.

Drop the stoke.

Stoke is the community-wide photo and clip feed.

1

Everyone sees it

Stoke crosses regions, so footage doesn't disappear inside a local chat.

Share a highlight.

Photos and clips belong here - and filmer credit matters.

1

Credit the filmer

Filmer is required. Add surfer, board, spot and location if useful. Clips: up to 90 sec / 50 MB.

Share a highlight

Photo or clip—the whole community sees this, every area.

CAPTION

Last clean set before the wind.

Share to Stoke

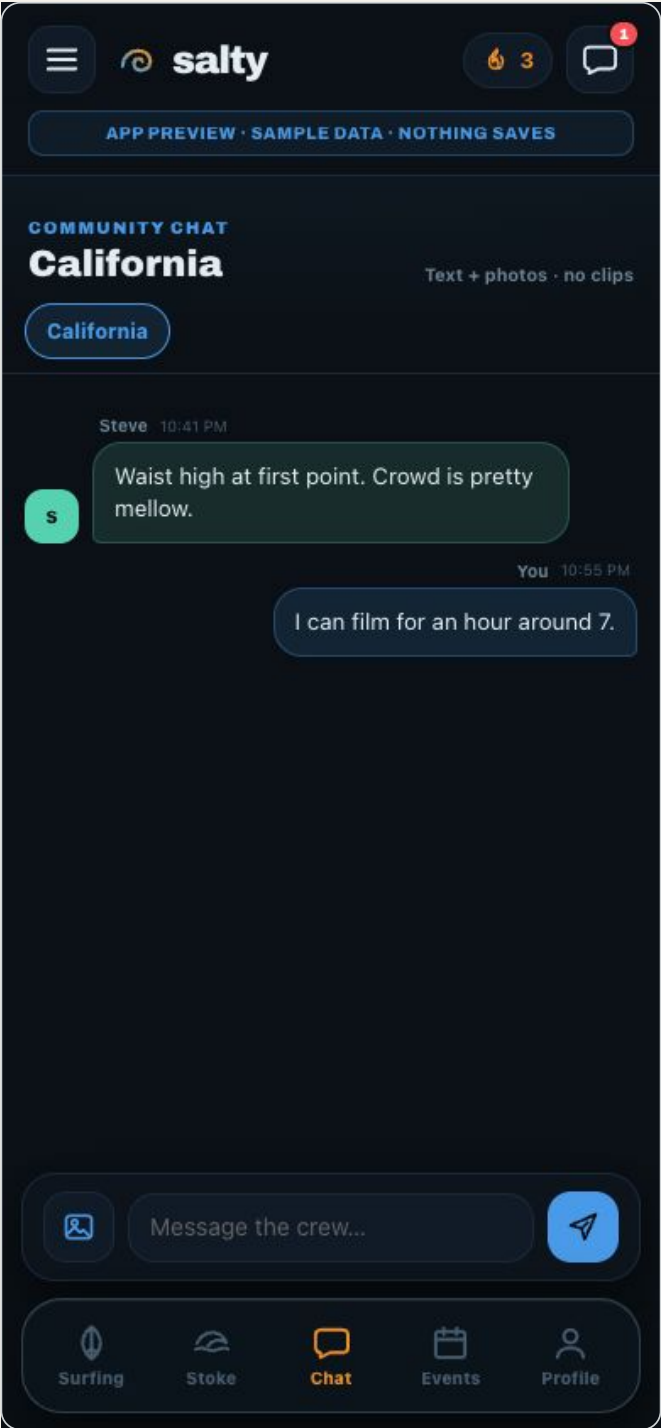

Talk to the crew.

Community Chat is for the local room.

1

Regional chat

Text + photos are good here. Video clips stay in Stoke.

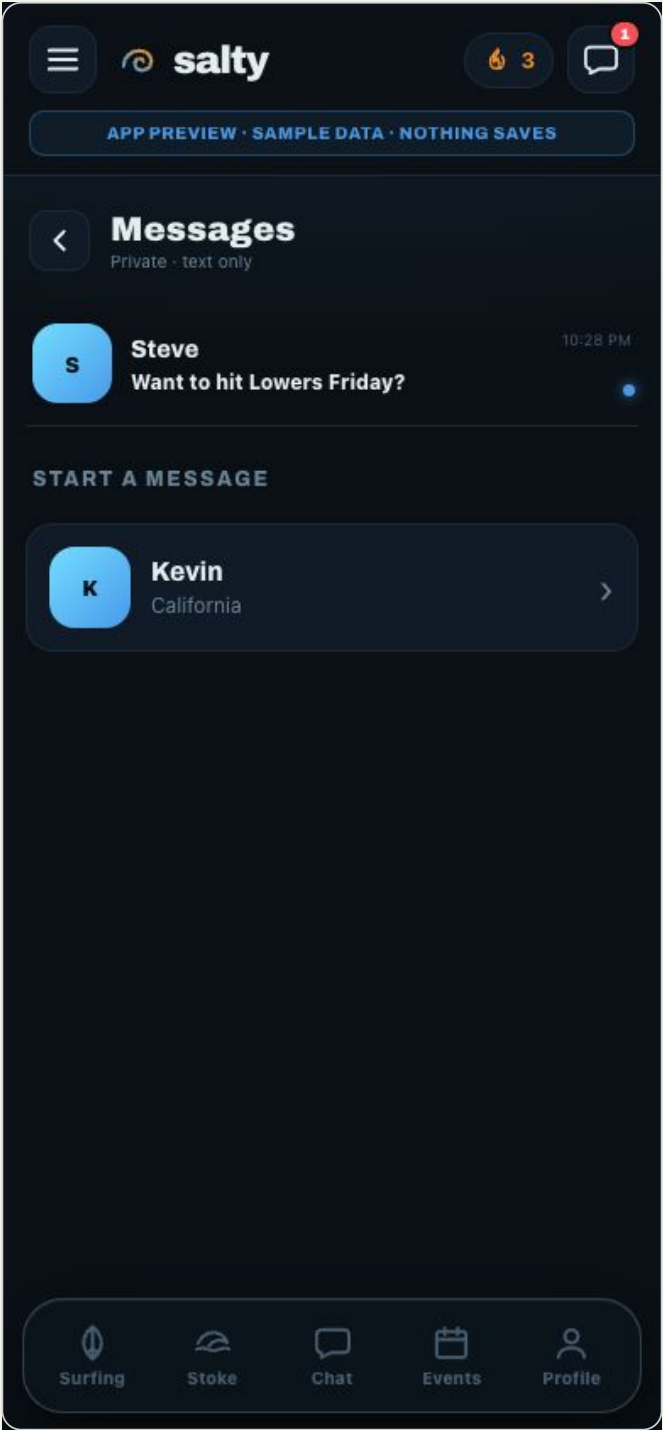

Keep it one-to-one.

Use DMs when the conversation only needs one person.

1

Start a DM

Pick a member from Messages. DMs are private and text-only.

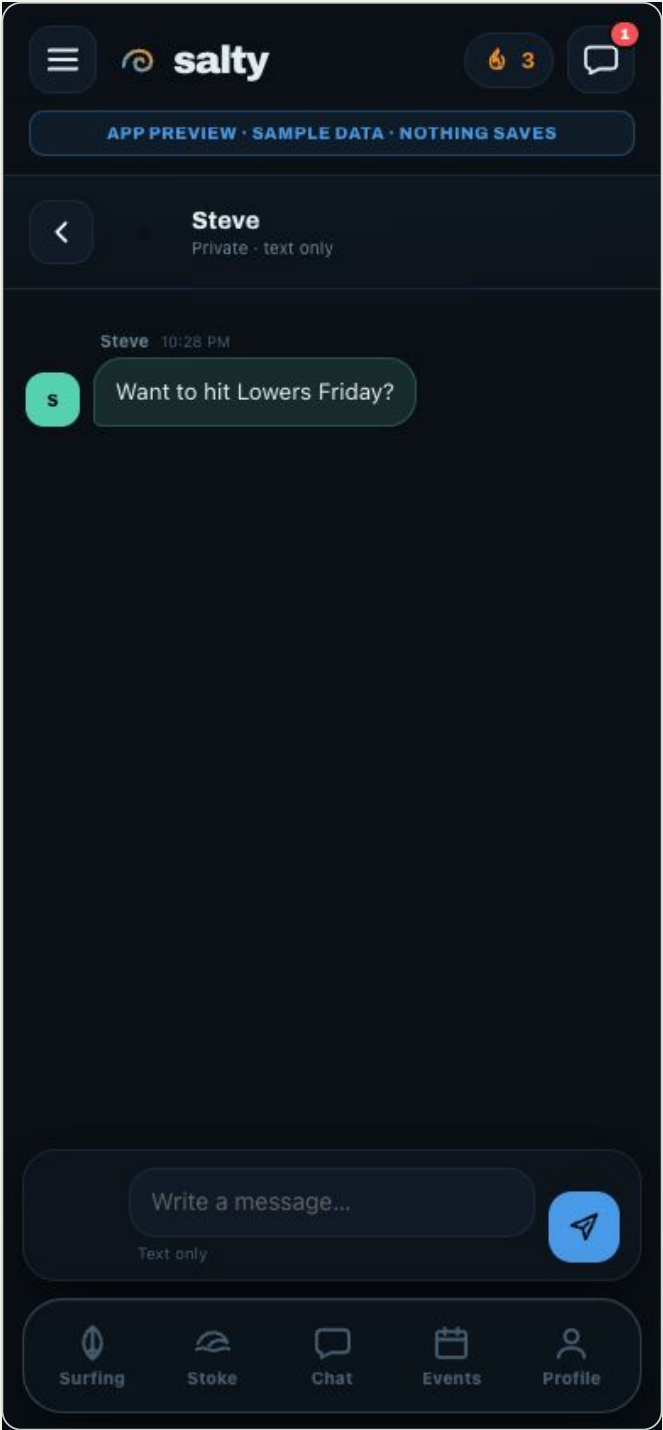

Keep the plan moving.

Quick coordination without another group text.

1

Text only

Need to send footage? Put it in Stoke and use the DM to point your friend there.

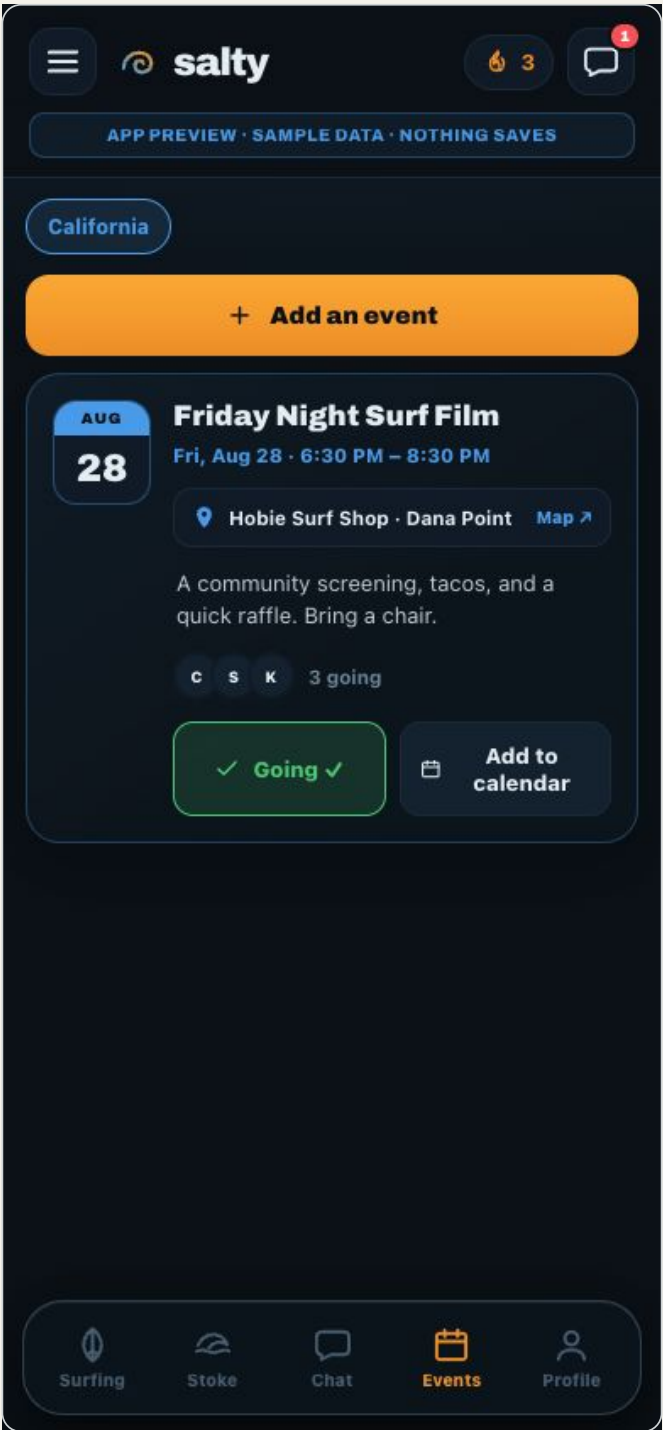

Make things happen.

Comps, premieres, movie nights and meetups live in Events.

1

Find + RSVP

Choose the relevant region, RSVP, and add the event to your calendar.

1

Name, date, start/end time and map location are the important pieces.

YOU

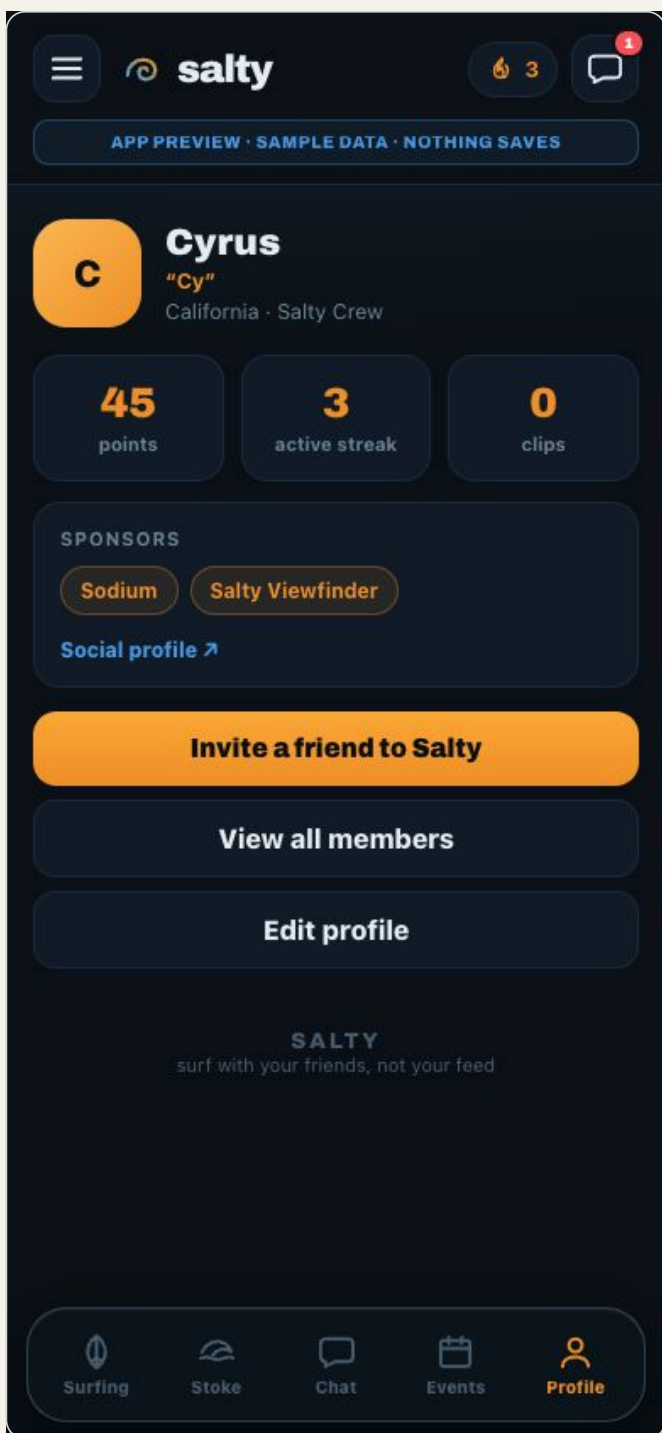

Your profile.

Your participation and profile live here.

1

Your Salty footprint

See your points, active streak, posts and profile controls.

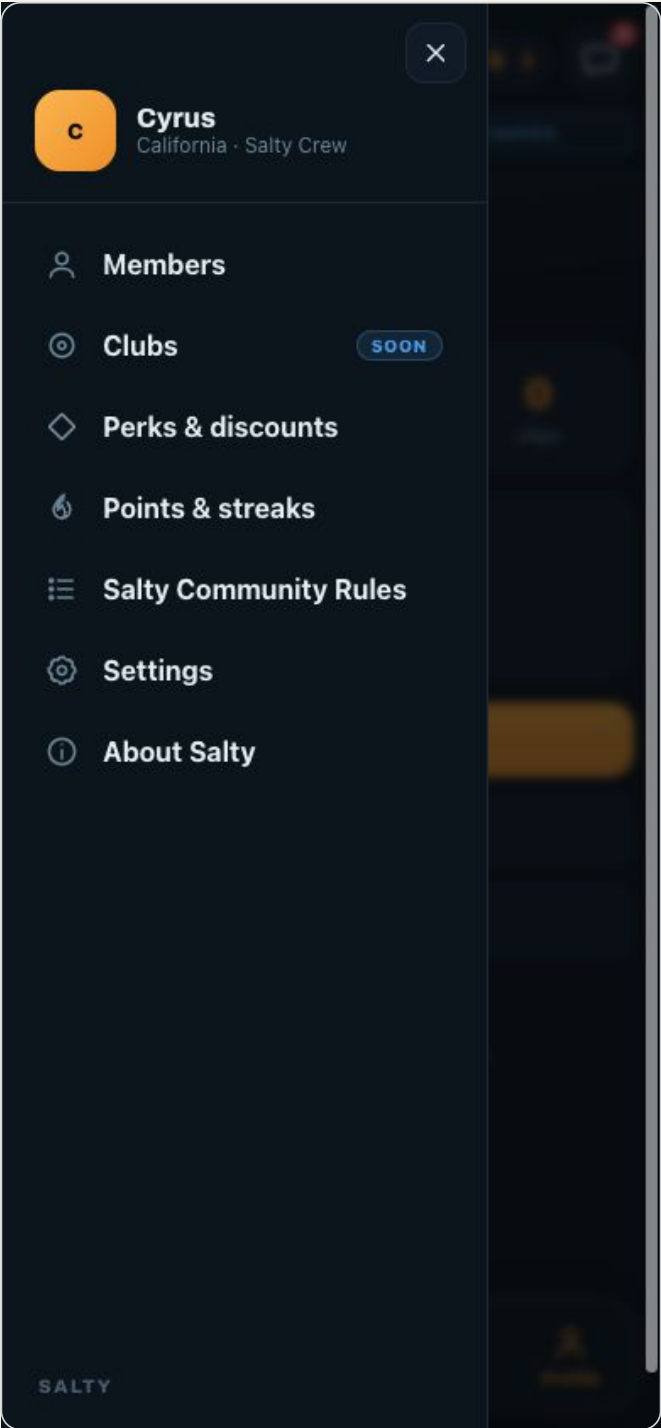

Know the side menu.

The main feed stays simple. The extra community tools live here.

1

Everything else

Members, Perks, Points, Rules, Settings and About are all behind the menu.

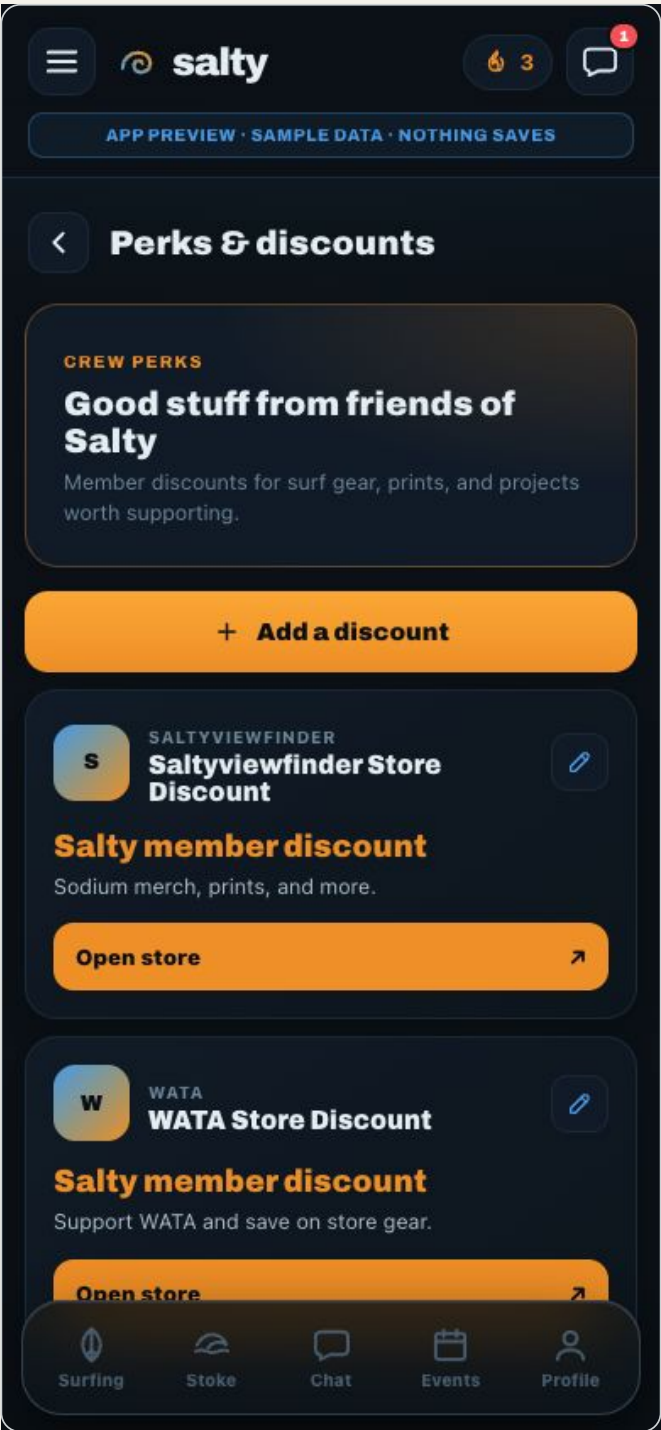

Crew perks.

Member offers from friends of Salty.

1

Open the perk

See the offer details and any code or link.

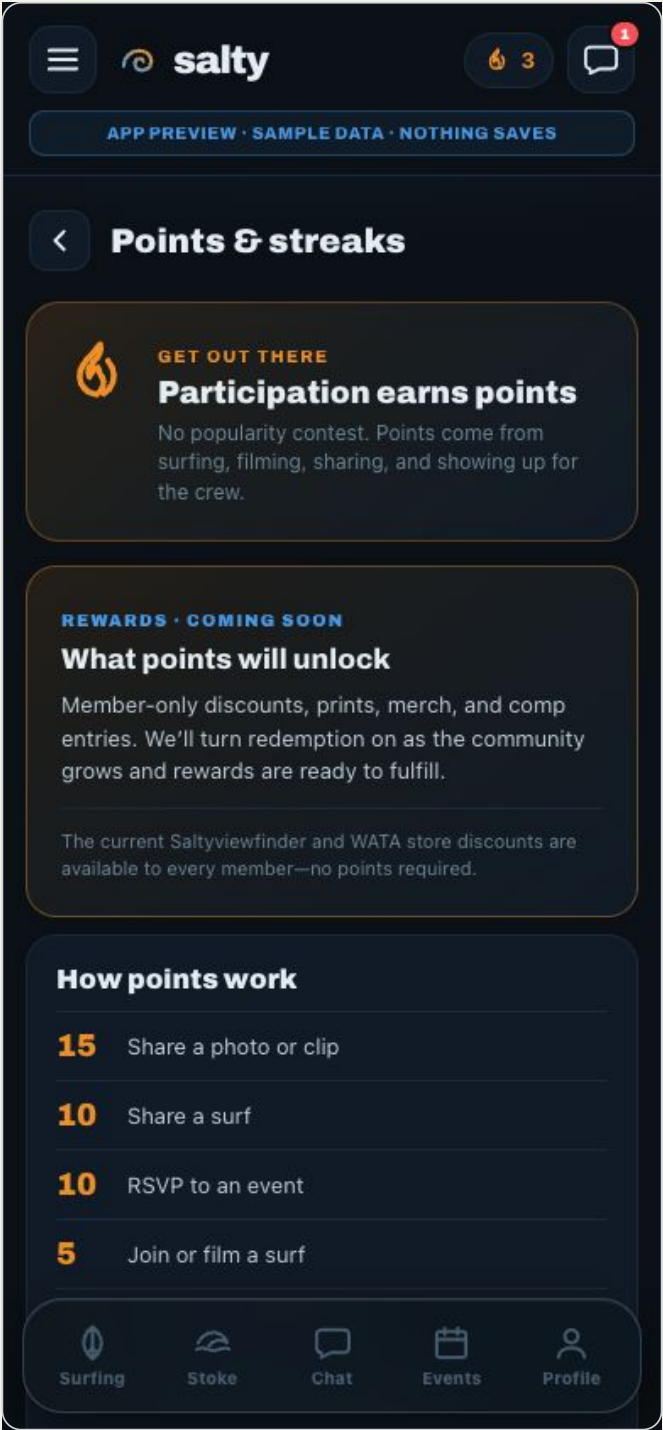

Participation counts.

Salty rewards doing things with the crew, not collecting followers.

1

Get out there

Surfing, filming, sharing, useful comments and event RSVPs earn points.

Make Salty yours.

Theme, installation, privacy, invites and sign-out live here.

1

Settings

Change the theme, install Salty, review privacy, invite a friend or sign out.

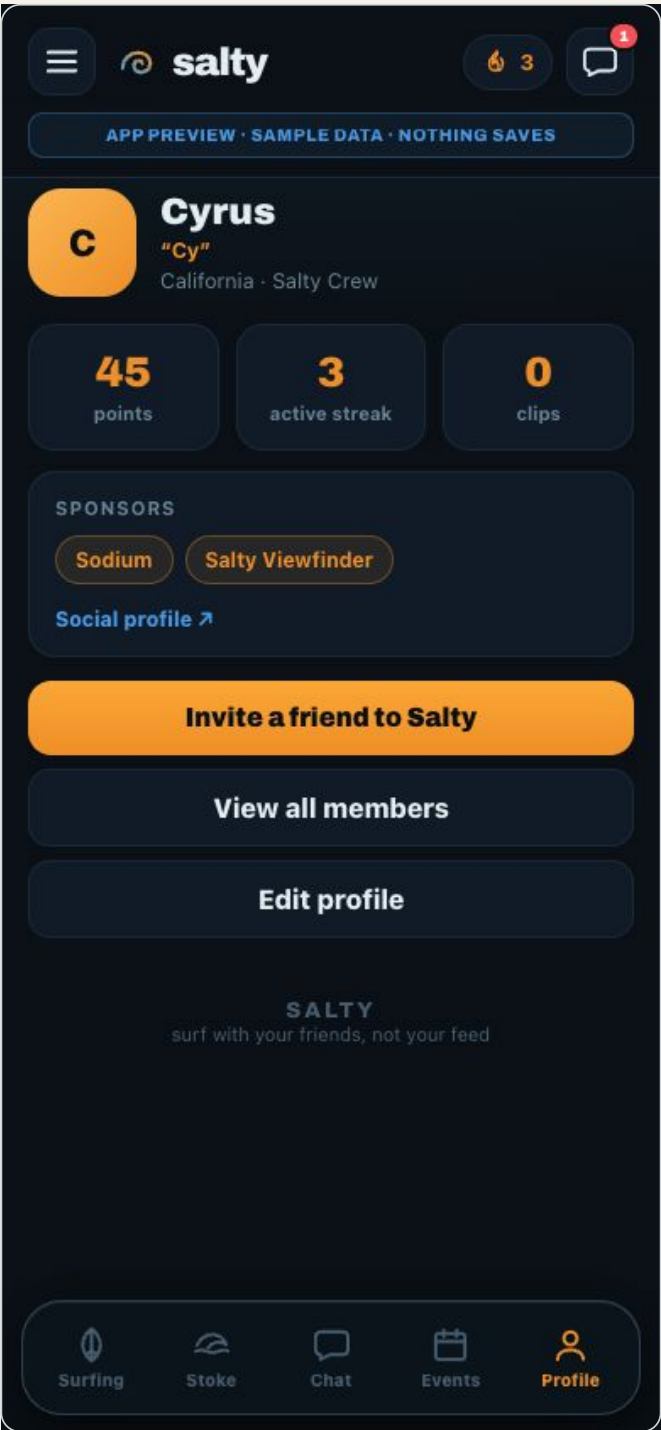

Bring in your people.

Salty grows through surfers who actually know and surf with each other.

1

Invite intentionally

Send the private invite to someone you actually want in the crew.

TESTING

Break it.

You're testing the app, not your ability to use it. If something feels confusing, slow, broken, or weird, that's useful feedback.

1

Take a screenshot.

2

Say what you were trying to do.

3

Say what you tapped right before it happened.

4

Tell Cyrus what phone/browser you were using.

That's it.

Post a surf. Join one. Drop a clip. Talk some shit. Go surfing.
